community events at locations across the city from June 3-5, https://www.phlpridecollective.org/, culminating in this march on Sunday, with three stops along the way to highlight diverse voices:

- The first stop honors the Lenni Lenape people with a land acknowledgement
- The second stop features speakers uplifting people of color and trans members of the community
- The third stop celebrates and connects LGBTQ youth and elders at the former site of a mural depicting the late LGBTQ rights leader Gloria Casarez

LGBTQ Discussions at Penn Medicine

Affirming LGBTQ Employees at Work
Tuesday, June 7  12:00 – 1:30 PM
A discussion on current Penn Medicine policies and support for LGBTQ+ employees and learners and best practices to support LGBTQ+ employees.
Panelists: Reina Fleury, MBA, SHRM-SCP, SPHR; Erin Cross, PhD; Judd Flesch, MD

SOGI Data in PennChart
Tuesday, June 21  12:00 – 1:00 PM
An overview of SOGI (sexual orientation and gender identity data) documentation, what it is, why we want to collect it, how to document in PennChart, and a preview of the upcoming improvements.
Panelists: Kayla Edmonds, CRCP; Carly Gartner, PA-C; Rosemary Thomas, MPH

LGBTQ+ Clinical Care at Penn Medicine
Monday, June 27  3:00 – 4:30 PM
Learn about the current state of care for LGBTQ+ patients at Penn Medicine areas for opportunity, best practices to support patients connecting to care and work in medical education to advance LGBTQ+ health.
Panelists: Kevin Kline, MD; Adam Lake, MD, AAHIVS, FAAFP, FACMQ; Peter Vasquez, MD

LGBTQ Efforts at NIH and the National Academies

The Sexual and Gender Minority Research Office of the NIH is sponsoring a free webinar on June 9: National Academies Report on Measuring Sex, Gender Identity, and Sexual Orientation, with speakers Kellan Baker, PhD, Policy Research scholar from Johns Hopkins Bloomberg School of Public Health and Nancy Bates, PhD, consultant with Stanford University working facilitating an NIH grant on SOGI (sexual orientation and gender identity) measurement. Registration required.  https://dpcpsi.nih.gov/sgmro

Also in recognition of PRIDE month, the SGMRO highlights ten researchers, early and established investigators, who are doing ground-breaking work in sexual and gender minority research. https://dpcpsi.nih.gov/sgmro/sgm-health-researcher-spotlight

NIH SGMRO grant supplement funding is available through December, 2024.

Links of interest: LGBTQ resources https://www.med.upenn.edu/CPUPAntiRacism/assets/user-content/documents/pride-month-2021-5.18-duplicate.pdf
https://www.med.upenn.edu/CPUPAntiRacism/pride-outings.html
https://www.pennmedicine.org/for-patients-and-visitors/find-a-program-or-service/lgbtq-health https://www.hrc.org/resources/healthcare-equality-index

Penn observes Juneteenth as University holiday starting June 20, 2022

Penn now recognizes Juneteenth as part of the University’s academic calendar and will observe it as a recognized University holiday for the first time this June. Juneteenth commemorates June 19, 1865, the day when enslaved people in Galveston, Texas received word that President Lincoln had signed the Emancipation Proclamation more than two and half years earlier, and that they were free. Announced August 31, 2021, per the President, Interim Provost and Senior Executive Vice President, The University of Pennsylvania will observe this new federal holiday starting in Fiscal Year 2022.

Juneteenth Events at University of Pennsylvania

“Perspectives on Diversity, Equity and Inclusion Through a Rehabilitation, Medicine and Robotics Research Lens” Department of Bioengineering 2022 Juneteenth Address
Dr. Michelle Johnson, Associate Professor, Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation & Bioengineering, University of Pennsylvania
Fri, June 17, 12-1 PM -- 220 S 33rd St

“Reproductive Oppression Yesterday and Today and Why It Matters” Special Juneteenth Lecture
Dr. Raegan McDonald-Mosley, MD, MPH, FACOG, Chief Executive, Officer Power to Decide
Mon, June 20 5:30-6:30 pm
Hosted by the CPUP Committee on Anti-Racism and co-sponsored by Department of OBGYN & FOCUS
Join Zoom Meeting ID: 937 6243 8072 | Passcode: 494885
https://pennmedicine.zoom.us/j/93762438072?pwd=S2o0WTF0QzRhZDNjbnE3RmVXbXFaUT09

Juneteenth Events in Philadelphia

Juneteenth at the Museum
Sat, Jun 18 – Mon, Jun 20
Museum of the American Revolution, 101 S 3rd St
Juneteenth Marketplace Vendors
Sun, Jun 19 -- Malcolm X Park, 5100 Pine St

Black Music City: Juneteenth Celebration
Sun, June 19, 5 PM -- World Cafe Live, 3025 Walnut St

Rising Up for Reparations: A Multi-faith Juneteenth Revival
Mon, June 20, 2 – 4 PM -- Friends Center, 1501 Cherry St